Come to the Edge: Where Faith Meets Learning

What a challenging and enticing conference title! I commend the Victorian 2013 Anglican Schools Australia Conference committee for their inspired conference theme and the excellent planning which has been devoted towards our conference in August this year. Much of Christ’s work was conducted at the edges of society though this may not be somewhere we have all been or commonly frequent. I am excited by the challenge of this theme and hope many others will be too.

To all ASA schools and their staff may I extend a warm invitation to join with our Victorian friends and colleagues and each other by coming together, at the Edge on 9th to the 11th August 2013. Based at the Hilton on the Park in East Melbourne it promises to be a great three days.

Each ASA annual conference provides new and stimulating ideas and speakers and 2013 will be no exception. Professor Geoffrey Blainey will challenge us by posing the question is Christianity in Hiding? We will welcome Bishop Alexis Bilindabagabo from the Diocese of Gahini in Rwanda. Faith and the Future will be probed by Futurist Mark Sayer and from the Afar region in Ethiopia Valerie Browning will provide an African view on the work of our schools with Education: for Us, It begins Under a Tree.

Workshops will be offered by some or all of our keynote speakers as well as other presenters. The usual pre-conference events of Leaders 21, Chaplaincy Networking and Chaplaincy Shadowing are all in place and that place will be Melbourne Grammar School. During the conference there will also be the chance to visit Melbourne’s Lanes to see and experience the work of support organisations in aiding and caring for some of the homeless people of inner Melbourne.

This promises to be a conference with a real edge and challenge to it and I expect it will appeal to many within our Anglican schools’ community. Please join me at the Edge in August.

With all good wishes,

Stephen Norris

Fellow Anglican Educators, Chaplains and Friends of Anglican Schools, we delight in inviting you to Come to the Edge in Melbourne in August, 2013. Our young people live their days ‘at the edge’. Looking towards adulthood and maturity, facing new challenges and constantly being drawn towards new goals and discoveries, called forward and onward in faith and hope.

Our Conference commences with an Anglican Schools’ Service, drawing together young people from Anglican Schools across Victoria, and together with our young, we stand at the edge of our conference to give thanks and pray for one another. During our gathering we shall draw inspiration from remarkable individuals working ‘at the edge’ in different lands and contexts: from Rwanda and Ethiopia to the back lanes of Melbourne. We shall engage with speakers who will challenge some historical perspectives on the role of the Church, both at the centre and at the margins of society.

For the first time we are offering a special Partners’ Program and we warmly invite delegates’ partners to join the proceedings of the Conference. This acknowledges the important role played by many partners in the lives of our schools. As Co-Conveners, we reflect that very important partnership in schools between Head and Chaplain. One of the special qualities of our Conference is the opportunity for Head and Chaplain to reflect and look ahead together. We celebrate all that an Anglican education offers our young people and seek to support our students and each other as they learn.

At this year’s conference there will be no satchels, but in their place a Conference App plus a booklet containing essential information, worship resources and room for notes. We want our Conference to be relevant and resource-friendly and accessible. With this in mind, the Conference fees have been held at the same level as for 2012.

Following our opening worship, together with the Victorian Anglican Schools community at St Paul’s Cathedral, we progress to The Edge, overlooking the Yarra in Federation Square. Here, we will hear opening addresses, then visit Eureka Towers, with an optional “Edge” experience. The remainder of the Conference will be based at the Hilton on the Park, a stone’s throw from Holy Trinity Church, where we will gather to pray, and a short stroll to another Melbourne “shrine”, the MCG! While there will be matches held at the ‘G’ during our conference, we dare say you will find it hard to tear yourself away from the Hilton on the Park to attend.

We look forward to welcoming you to the Edge in August, to make and renew friendships in the Anglican community, and to be challenged anew so that we, and those in our charge, might ‘fly’.

Abstract: For the last century sociologists predicted the demise of religion. However the last decade has seen the return of religion across the globe. Students are coming of age in now what is termed a post-secular culture. Yet our understanding of religion, especially how it functions in the everyday life of young people, is in a process of flux. How do educators and religious organisations engage young people with the Christian message? The answer is that before we engage we first must seek to understand. This presentation will explore the contours of contemporary religion within the landscape of the West, in particular how the contemporary religious worldview shapes young people’s understanding of faith. Once this worldview is understood, possibilities and pathways to engagement open up.

Faith & The Future

Mark Sayers, Partner, Uber, Vic

Mark Sayers is a writer, thinker and highly sought-after speaker in the matters of young adult ministry, pop-culture and mission to the West. He provides unique provocative and prophetic insight into pertinent issues affecting Christians today. Mark also spends his time in mission and ministry with Red Church in Melbourne, where he is the Senior Leader. He is married to Trudi, has a daughter Grace, and twin boys, Hudson and Billy. He is the author of the books The Trouble with Paris, The Vertical Self, and The Road Trip that Changed the World.

Education: for Us, It Begins Under a Tree

Valerie Browning, Program Coordinator, Afar Pastoralist Development Association, Ethiopia

Trained as a nurse and midwife in Sydney, Valerie Browning went to Ethiopia first during the 1973/74 famine as a 22 year old. When so strongly confronted with total injustice she increasingly stepped into the world of the Horn of Africa with all its conflicts and human suffering. Having met her husband in 1986 and married him in Djibouti in 1989, she has since lived in his society. With 34 other Afar people they formed the organisation she now works for as Program Coordinator, the Afar Pastoralist Development Association. Through APDA, the Afar society is gaining social and economic development, a process that began from scratch 14 years ago.

Abstract: As Christians, our calling to engage with our society comes with a ready-made destiny as well as all the needed provisions to act. Strangely, we recoil from that and seek undue comfort, limiting us from actual engagement – we fear, we assume limitations and then literally fail to act. Education as the basis of all sound communication is the great instrument in all societies to mould, form and go ahead. If it is not the adventure it is meant to be, then we are stunting ourselves. Our faith should lead us into ‘risk’ and uncertainty: we should be desperately trying to make links of knowledge so that justice becomes part of the fabric of our globe.
Is Christianity in Hiding?
Professor Geoffrey Blainey, AC

Professor Geoffrey Blainey has a long and distinguished career in academic circles. For twenty years he was a professor of economic history and then Ernest Scott Professor of History at the University of Melbourne. He also held the chair of Australian Studies at Harvard University. In 1988 in New York he received the International Britannica Award for excellence in the dissemination of knowledge for the benefit of humankind. A member of various Federal Government committees, he was Chairman of the Australia Council for four years and Chairman of the Australia-China Council for five years and in 2001 was chairman of the National Council for the Centenary of Federation.

He is the author of many books, including The Tyranny of Distance and The Causes of War. Amongst his recent titles are A Short History of the World (2000), a best seller now issued in many editions and translations extending from Italian to Portuguese, and A Short History of the Twentieth Century, released in 2005.

Professor Blainey is a witty speaker with a warm, approachable manner which delights his audiences. His presentations draw on economic events and their effects on the future.

Abstract: What is the state of Christianity in Australia and the world? Is it relevant or is it like an old premiership flag, occasionally unfurled?

Professor Blainey explains: “Christianity often has a hostile or indifferent press in Australia and the other prosperous nations of the western world. Sometimes the hostility or apathy is justified. But the churches were possibly the single most important influence on Australian history until say 50 years ago. Why were they influential? How did they affect the average Australian, old or young?”

“The church is now seen as in permanent decline. I am not convinced by this view. It has always been declining and reviving.”

Preparing Young People for a Rapidly Changing World
Bishop Alexis Bilindabagabo, Bishop of Gahini Diocese, Anglican Church of Rwanda

A survivor of the horrors of the 1994 Genocide in Rwanda, Bishop Alexis serves his Lord in the Anglican Diocese of Gahini on the shores of Lake Muhazi, accompanied by his wife Grace and their six children and five adopted children.

Bishop Alexis pours his leadership energies into programs of recovery and development. They include orphan support and education, reconciliation of former enemies, support of widows, the promotion of literacy, and ongoing education for all the priests of his diocese. He also encourages his people to learn and apply the principles of ownership, economic enterprise and growth. Bishop Alexis has been a Bishop for the last twenty-three years, is Chairman of the Protestant Council of Churches in Rwanda and founder and chairman of three local NGOs.

Abstract: In this keynote, Bishop Alexis will address how we prepare our young people for a world where they are more closely connected to the global, online community than they are to their neighbours. Young people have “the world in their pockets” and even those in developing countries have ready access to mobile phones and the connectedness that they now bring. While there is connectedness, there is not necessarily cultural understanding and the natural boundaries between humans are now blurred. Conversely, many of our young people do not have close relationships with significant adults and do not have supportive physically present adults in their lives. The type of education that we provide on these issues is of paramount importance. This is globalisation from a different perspective and the way that we respond will determine how well our young people manage the challenges and opportunities that they face.

The Council for Christian Education in Schools as an ACCESS ministry
A1 Valerie Browning
1.5 million Afar people are without an accessible and appropriate education system. Literacy is established and teaching to Grade 4 is proven possible. Now we need to move on through the intermediary grades of 5 to 8 and reach for Grade 12 as an opportunity for a pastoralist child.

A2 The Reverend Professor Dorothy Lee and The Reverend Dr Brian Rosner
A Theological Conversation between the Dean of the Trinity Theological School, who is also Frank Woods Professor in New Testament, and the Principal of Ridley Melbourne - Mission & Ministry College, exploring the Conference theme.

A3 Professor Geoffrey Blainey AC
Professor Blainey will respond to questions in an interactive session about Christianity’s location both at the centre of established society and on its margins.

A4 Bishop Alexis Bilindabagabo
Rwanda has made enormous progress in the years following the 1994 genocide. How has this been achieved? What can we learn from their experiences and what is next for the country and its people?

B1 Founding an Education Program in a Pastoralist / Nomadic Society: Our Ongoing Experience
Valerie Browning, Program Coordinator, Afar Pastoralist Development Association, Ethiopia
1.5 million Afar people are without an accessible and appropriate education system. Literacy is established and teaching to Grade 4 is proven possible. Now we need to move on through the intermediary Grades of 5 to 8 and reach for Grade 12 as an opportunity for a pastoralist child.

B2 Cross-cultural Service Learning: Building Relationships with Schools and Communities in Developing Countries
Brad Chapman, Education Missioner, Anglican Board of Mission
Brad Chapman has worked with a number of Australian schools to establish institutional relationships with Anglican schools and communities in other areas of the world. He will outline best practice in this area, and give guidance on how to initiate cross-cultural connection.

B3 How Should Schools Respond to the Royal Commission?
The Right Reverend Garry Weatherill, Bishop of Ballarat, and Michael Shand QC
Bishop Garry Weatherill and Michael Shand, will offer perspectives, from Church leadership and the Bar, about schools’ engagement with the Royal Commission into Institutional Responses to Child Sexual Abuse.

B4 A Religious Studies Curriculum for Anglican Schools
The Reverend Peter Laurence, Chief Executive Officer, the Anglican Schools Commission, and Executive Officer, Anglican Schools Australia and Philip Goldsworthy, Director Policy & Planning, Anglican Schools Commission, and Executive Officer, Western Australian Anglican Schools Association
The Anglican Schools Commission in Western Australia has led a joint working party from the Western Australian Anglican Schools Association [WAASA] and the National Association of Episcopal Schools [NAES] in the United States, to redevelop a Kindergarten to Year 12 Religious Studies curriculum. Informed by Australian Curriculum documents – especially for History – it is based on seven content-area Strands and four Stages of Development from early childhood through to late adolescence. One or more Strands are integrated into a number of fully resourced Units of Work and more are planned. The goal is for the curriculum to be adaptable and age-appropriate for Anglican schools whatever their background or size.

B5 Preparing Female Leaders to “Come to the Edge” of Principalship in Anglican Schools
Karen Spiller, Principal, St Aidan’s Anglican Girls’ School, Brisbane, QLD
With a looming leadership vacuum in Australian schools, the promotion of women leaders is all the more important. This area has been the subject of Karen Spiller’s research, which was supported by a Churchill Fellowship. This workshop will explore ways to support and encourage women leaders in our schools and provide explicit strategies for current leaders to encourage and promote women in their schools and sector.
State of the Family
Anglicare Australia’s flagship publication is our annual State of the Family Report. Since 2000, it has been providing valuable insights into the changing circumstances of families living with disadvantage in Australia.

Each Anglicare member is an independent organisation choosing to come together to form a national network matching local presence with national strength.

Working together we are better able to understand the factors contributing to deprivation and disadvantage; develop best practice principles in supporting individuals and families to overcome these barriers; and to help the community understand that, without its support, these issues will remain intractable.

Anglicare Australia advocates at a national level on behalf of those individuals and families network member services to influence social and economic policy to build communities of resilience, hope and justice.

In every 50 people Anglicare Australia network members provide support to:

7 are seeking Emergency Relief
6 are seeking Aged Care services
3 looking for Community Aged Care
3 are seeking Financial Counselling
3 are looking for Capacity Building Services
2 are seeking Housing and Housing Support Services
2 are young people looking for support
2 are looking for Counselling whilst
2 are looking for clothing and other recycled goods
2 are seeking Disability Support,
2 looking for Family Support Services
2 looking for Indigenous Support Services
1 person is looking for each of Chaplaincy Support, Community Education and Children’s Services
10 people looking for other specialised services provided by Anglicare Australia network members.

MELBOURNE’S LANES: LIVING ON THE EDGE IN MELBOURNE

Each day many thousands of Victorians are homeless. In this optional session, conference delegates are invited to take a different tour of Melbourne and to see the City from the perspective of the homeless.

Sarah Gover (Anglicare Gippsland) will coordinate the tours which will be led by members of the Melbourne Homeless Council. As part of the session, Sarah will describe her work with Year 9 students from Gippsland and how she is raising awareness of issues of homelessness and inequality through similar tours for students.

Dress code: We recommend that you wear a warm jacket or coat and walking shoes for this tour. Further details will be provided to people who register for this tour.

The ASA Management Committee is offering a limited number of fully sponsored Conference Registrations. The funding covers registration costs, not accommodation or travel. This is to assist Heads of Schools and their Deputies, Senior Staff, Chaplains, Religious Educators, boarding and pastoral leaders in Australian Member schools who have been unable to attend an Annual Conference because of the cost. Support is normally directed to smaller schools, or those in remote locations.

Applicants are asked to complete the form available at www.aasn.edu.au
Partners registered for the Conference are welcome to participate in the regular Conference program (registering separately for the Welcome Reception and Conference Dinner). In addition, the following activities are offered to partners for Saturday afternoon.

12:00pm Early lunch for Partners

12:30pm Partners depart for one of the following:

Visit to the Johnston Collection
This small museum, near the Hotel, is a treasure-trove of decorative arts, mostly from the Georgian and Regency periods, housed in a Georgian-style residence. Places for this visit are limited and will be allocated in order of registration for this Partners’ Program activity.

OR

Conducted Tour of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Collection of the National Gallery of Victoria
Archbishop Philip Freier, who has a special interest in Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander art, will escort partners for a guided tour of the exceptional Indigenous art collection at the Ian Potter Centre. (Delegates attending this tour will need a MYKI card for tram outing).

2:45pm

High Tea at Bishopscourt
Following both the above activities, Archbishop Philip Freier and Mrs Joy Freier will welcome partners for afternoon tea at Bishopscourt, a picturesque mansion dating from 1853, a short walk from the Hilton on the Park.

LEADERS 21 PROGRAM

THURSDAY 8 AUGUST 2013

Venue: Melbourne Grammar School

Good models help learners in any field. Learning to lead is no different. Future school leaders will need to lead 21st Century schools. They will need to be flexible thinkers, able to adapt quickly to changing contexts, yet still lead with a firm Christian vision for their schools. Future leaders of Anglican schools have the opportunity to learn from established school leaders during our “Leaders 21” forum. Experienced leaders will share insights from their own leadership and research. This forum is open for staff in Anglican schools who aspire to leadership at some time in their careers.

CHAPLAINCY SHADOWING PROGRAM

Venue: Melbourne Grammar School

The Chaplaincy Shadowing Program brings together Anglican School Chaplains who want to learn from each other and support each other in our common role of making God’s love known in our schools. We do this by finding a willing Chaplain to partner with, visiting and shadowing the partner Chaplain for a week, and then hosting a return visit. The opportunity is there to talk through what each Chaplain does in their school and give helpful critique, learn some new approaches and to be challenged by someone who may be from a very different background. The experience has proven invaluable for a number of School Chaplains.

- 9:00am  Registration for Chaplaincy Shadowing Program
- 9:15am  Chaplaincy Shadowing Program begins
- 10:30pm  Morning tea
- 12:00pm  Chaplaincy Shadowing Program concludes then these Chaplains may join the Chaplains Networking Program (below)

CHAPLAINS’ NETWORKING PROGRAM

Venue: Melbourne Grammar School

The Chaplains’ Networking program brings together Chaplains from all over Australia. It is a great opportunity to share ideas, meet new people, catch up with old friends, visit a local Anglican school and hear from various people involved in ministry in educational settings.

- 11:00am  Registration at the Hilton on the Park
- 11:30am  Bus to Melbourne Grammar
- 12:00pm  Lunch
- 1:00pm  Session 1: Using technology effectively in Worship and in the Classroom

MELBOURNE TRANSPORT
– MYKI Cards

Melbourne’s public transport system now runs on Myki Cards, and by August 2013, you will no longer be able to purchase a ticket, you will need a Myki card. If you are planning to stay in Melbourne and use the public transport system, you can purchase your Myki Card before arriving in Melbourne, and have it topped up and ready to go. A full fare myki costs $6.00. When you buy a myki it has no value on it, so you need to top up before you travel. Please go to www.myki.com.au for further information.

WEATHER

Melbourne has a reputation for its changeable weather. A tip for any visitor is to be prepared for anything – take an umbrella and wear layers that can be worn or removed as needed. Winter (June - August): cool to brisk 7°C - 14°C.
