Fellow Anglican educators, Chaplains, Chairs and Governors and friends of Anglican schools, I am delighted to invite you to the next Anglican Schools Australia (ASA) conference, to be held in Perth in August 2014, entitled Mining the Soul.

In what is a very relevant and apt theme for a conference located in the mining capital of Australia, we hope that you will journey across the Nullarbor, or join your West Australian colleagues, to take part in a conference that will explore ways in which we can help our students mine their souls.

Conference Chair, President Elect of ASA and Headmaster of Christ Church Grammar School, Garth Wynne, along with his talented and energetic Organising Committee, has assembled an exciting and stimulating array of speakers and activities. Based at the beautiful Pan Pacific Hotel, surrounded by stunning vistas of the Swan River, the conference will look to ‘dig’ into practices and processes that will encourage staff and students of Anglican Schools to develop faith and enhance their commitment to God.

The conference is the highlight of the ASA calendar each year, providing an opportunity for delegates to meet in fellowship as we celebrate both the unity and diversity of our 160 Anglican schools. The Perth conference will deviate slightly from the usual program, finishing on the Saturday night with the Conference dinner, thus allowing delegates an opportunity to take in the sights or alternatively travel home on the Sunday.

The ASA Conference is for all people in Anglican Schools. In 2014 we hope to welcome Principals, Chaplains, senior academic or pastoral members of staff and classroom teachers as well as entice larger numbers of School Governors and senior Clergy to the conference.

While it is always great to rekindle friendships with regular participants of the conference, I hope a number of first time attendees will be attracted to Perth and the outstanding program that the Organising Committee has developed. I look forward to seeing you in Perth in August 2014.

Fiona Godfrey
President ASA and
Principal, Radford College

WELCOME FROM THE CONFERENCE CHAIR

It is my great pleasure to welcome you to Perth for the Anglican Schools Australia conference for 2014. There is no doubt that this is a great state to visit and enjoy, no matter what time of the year. Although August can at times be a little chilly, this only serves to make the blue sky more vibrant – a signature element of the west coast experience.

There is no more important a task for our Anglican schools than to help students come to know their souls. The journey of life (given its complexity and uncertainty) demands of every individual a reliance on their core - the soul that is the foundation of their inner being. In the same way that we can unearth our most fundamental physical elements in the land, we also find our own strength, integrity and certainty in our souls. This conference will dig into the practices and processes that operate within our schools and the wider community that gives substance to these fundamental truths. To mine the soul is to find the essence of what it is to be human and this is the core of what will be shared amongst us all at Mining the Soul.

Garth Wynne
Conference Chair and
Headmaster, Christ Church Grammar School

ARCHBISHOP OF PERTH

The Most Reverend Roger Herft AM
Archbishop of Perth and Metropolitan of the Province of Western Australia

Archbishop Roger Herft was born and educated in Sri Lanka. He was Bishop of Waikato from 1986, the youngest Bishop in the Anglican Communion at the time; served as Bishop of Newcastle from 1992-2005 and as Archbishop of Perth and Metropolitan of Western Australia since June 2005.

Roger Herft’s episcopate is known for his commitment to reconciliation with Indigenous people, his stance against racism and government policy on the Iraq war and refugees, and interfaith relations. He is deeply committed to the inclusion of women at every level of Church life.

On Australia Day 2013 Archbishop Roger was made a Member (AM) in the General Division of the Order of Australia for significant service to the Anglican Church of Australia through leadership roles in ecumenical and interfaith relations and advocacy for social justice.
Paula Gooder, Theologian in Residence, Bible Society, England, UK

Abstract: When we use the word ‘soul’ a particular idea will enter most people’s minds. The soul remains popularly regarded as somehow separate from the body and the only means by which we engage with ‘spirituality’. The New Testament has a quite different idea in which the body, united with the mind and the spirit, is the way in which we encounter God most fully. In this keynote address we will be exploring what difference this might make to how we ‘mine the soul’ and how this might affect the way in which we think about the spirituality of the children and young people in our care.

Justin Langer A.M., former leading Australian test cricketer, Coach of WA (Western Warriors & Perth Scorchers), former Assistant Coach of the Australian Cricket Team, Author, Speaker

Until the announcement of his retirement from test cricket in 2007, Justin was one of Australia’s great top-order batsmen. Originally a number three, he moved to opener in 2001 and played 105 tests scoring 7,696 runs including 23 test centuries. Few have worn the baggy green with greater pride. Along with Matthew Hayden, Justin formed a hugely successful opening partnership, which ranks as the best in Australian history and featured six double century stands. His tally of 23 test centuries saw him overtake former cricket icons Ian Chappell, Neil Harvey and Doug Walters. In 2009, whilst playing county cricket in the UK, he surpassed Don Bradman as the most prolific batsman in Australian cricket history with a total of 28,068 first class runs. He was named as a Member of the Order of Australia (A.M.) in the 2008 Queen’s Birthday Honours List. In 2009 he was appointed Assistant Coach of the Australian cricket team and in 2012 he achieved a lifelong dream when he was approached to take on the role of Coach of Western Australia (Western Warriors & Perth Scorchers). In demand as a motivational and corporate speaker, Justin was raised in a Christian home and credits his spiritual life with helping him as a sportsman, coach, mentor, husband and father. He is a committed family man with four daughters.
Dr John van Bockxmeer is dedicated to improving the health of all Australians. For over ten years John has led numerous voluntary local, national and international initiatives representing excellence in the fields of medicine and community development. In his spare time John manages a charity called Fair Game which inspires healthy Indigenous and refugee communities through the provision of recycled sports equipment. The group has donated over 8,000 items of recycled equipment to migrant and Indigenous communities and continues to inspire change through fitness, capacity-building and health education programs. A natural leader, John inspires those around him through the breadth and quality of his achievements. He coordinates a ‘Fair Gamers’ volunteer mentoring program, expanding Fair Game’s ability to help more Australian communities.

Akram Azimi is a dedicated mentor to young Indigenous people. Arriving in Australia 13 years ago from Afghanistan he went from being ‘an ostracised refugee kid with no prospects’ to becoming his school’s Head Boy. An outstanding student, he topped the tertiary entrance exam scores among his classmates. He’s now studying a triple major (law, science and arts) at the University of Western Australia. Intent on giving back to his adopted country, Akram uses his leadership and pastoral skills to help young people in remote and rural Western Australia. In 2011 he co-founded a student-run initiative “I am the Other” set up to raise awareness about Indigenous issues in universities. His philanthropic roles have included working with True Blue Dreaming, which helps disadvantaged remote Indigenous communities. For three years, Akram mentored young Indigenous people in the Looma community in the Kimberley region and he has mentored primary school students in the small farming community of Wyalkatchem, in WA’s wheat belt. Akram is also mentoring a Paralympic athlete to help raise community awareness of disability issues.

Jarrod McKenna believes love is practical. At the age of 26, Jarrod became the youngest recipient of the Donald Groom Peace Fellowship for his work as a social change trainer and activist. Tim Costello created for him the role as ‘National Advisor on Faith and Activism’ for World Vision Australia. Recently Jarrod and his wife Teresa started a new innovative community in their own home, called First Home Project, that houses and empowers 17 refugees.
SOUL SEARCHING

A panel of Year 12 students across the spectrum of Anglican schools in WA will engage in conversation about the role of spirituality in their lives and schools. Specifically, they will be invited to reflect upon the impact that being in an Anglican school is having upon their values, character, world view, ideas about social justice and service and above all, their spiritual awareness and practice.

CHAPLAINCY SHADOWING PROGRAM

Thursday 7 August 2014
Venue: Anglican Schools Commission
Wallaston Road, Mt Claremont WA

The Chaplaincy Shadowing Program brings together Anglican School Chaplains who want to learn from each other and support each other in their common role of making God’s love known in our schools. We do this by finding a willing Chaplain with whom to partner, visiting and shadowing that partner Chaplain for a week and then hosting a return visit. The opportunity is there to talk through what each Chaplain does in their school and offer helpful critique, learn some new approaches and be challenged by someone who may be from a very different background. The experience has proven invaluable for a number of School Chaplains.

8.30am  Registration for Chaplaincy Shadowing Program
9.00am  Chaplaincy Shadowing Program begins
10.00am  Chaplaincy Shadowing Program concludes with morning tea

Current and future leaders of Anglican schools have the opportunity to learn from established school leaders in different contexts during our Leading with Soul tour. This tour is open for all staff in Anglican schools who aspire to ‘lead with soul’, now and in the future. Good role models help learners in any field and learning to lead is no different. Leaders of Anglican schools need to be flexible thinkers, able to adapt quickly to changing contexts and lead with a firm Christian vision. Three exceptional Principals will share insights from their own leadership journey on this tour through Perth and its environs.

Joy Shepherd has been Principal of St Hilda’s Anglican School for Girls since 1998 and will retire at the end of 2014 after a career spanning 40 years. Joy has worked in schools in New York, the United Kingdom and across Australia. She has taught in many different settings - co-educational, girls only, government and independent. This has enabled her to develop a keen understanding of schools, the young people they serve and the leadership they demand.

St Hilda’s Anglican School for Girls is a JK-12 school of 1200 students. In the past two years it has graduated the Beazley Medal winning student of Western Australia and along with this enviable academic reputation, strives to develop young women who have a strong, social conscience informed by Anglican Christian values.

Vocal Evolution
Directed by Lionel Pierson, Vocal Evolution is a world-class male vocal harmony chorus based in Perth, Western Australia that has been wowing audiences since 2002.

The group was started by a bunch of ordinary guys who wanted to produce an extraordinary sound. True to their name, the chorus has grown musically and artistically to become widely recognised as one of Australia’s best vocal harmony groups.

Vocal Evolution has sung in a variety of settings including corporate gatherings, self-produced shows and at large concert events supporting entertainers such as Jimmy Barnes and David Campbell. They have also appeared on national television on Australia’s Got Talent and have been featured on Today Tonight. The group’s wide appeal comes from a combination of popular songs from their repertoire delivered with a passion, and a joy that reflects the enjoyment each singer derives from performing the soaring four-part harmony arrangements. Vocal Evolution comprises around 30 singers of all ages from all walks of life.
